Social Media Rules of Engagement for Students

Think about if what you’re about to share could offend, surprise, or shock your current or future

- Classmates
- Teacher
- Friends
- Boyfriend/girlfriend
- Family
- Parents
- Employer
- Clients
- Business partners

If you answer even one “Yes” (or maybe) for this short list of people, think long and hard before publishing that content.

1. Know and follow the WCI Student Code of Conduct even in an online world.

2. Be transparent and identify yourself as a WCI student when discussing topics or issues that relate to your Lecturers, Classmates or WCI in general.

3. Consider what you say before you say it – it’ll be on the web for a long time!

4. Be original and respect copyright.

5. Play fair; be polite, be considerate – don’t pick fights or engage in them, remember what you say will be public for a long time.

6. Admit your mistakes – we all make them so when you do, be quick to admit and correct them.
